

Early Marion County History Recalled by Prospect Man; Relics Are Numerous

Should any one decide to write a history of Marion, they could well afford to devote a few pages to recollections of J. H. Nickleson of Prospect R. F. D. No. 1. All of Mr. Nickleson's 70 years have been spent on a farm inherited from his father who in turn inherited it from his father.

Mr. Nickleson not only has a wonderful store of historical adventures in his memory but is also the possessor of relics any collector would be proud to own.

One of the most interesting articles in his collection consists of two round stones of a dark red hue, slightly larger than a silver dollar in circumference and much thicker.

These he said constituted the square cosmetics. By wetting the stones and rubbing them together a dark red pigment was formed. Using one of the two stones as a "powder puff" the vain Indian woman could beauty her face as well as to the delight of the Indian braves who used to inhabit the country surrounding the Nickleson home.

Mr. Nickleson also has a pair of "wolf" carvers which his ancestors formerly used to prepare wood for spinning. Then there is the old spinning wheel from which the "cane" wool and linen yarns that later became "cane" yarns were twisted.

Two large "bears" or large stones used in grinding grain a century ago are also among the Nickleson possessions. These two stones are so arranged that one may be revolved upon the other with the grain in between. Of course the friction of grinding grain often resulted in some sand from the stones being mixed in the corn meal but the sturdy pioneers never minded this. Mr. Nickleson recently purchased another farm in the vicinity of his and it received the original deed written in a fancy script on a sheepskin parchment. The parchment bears that it is supposed to be and probably is the signature of James Moore, president of the United States. The deed is dated Oct. 8, 1821 and was granted to Henry, Henry Moore.

India Indian Relics
Mr. Nickleson can also show you an ancient good-looking Indian bow and arrow. The bow was made of bowditch by John T. Goodey, an Apache Indian. Arrows were also made by the Indians.

Mr. Nickleson is continually turning up new Indian relics from the acres of his farm as the ground is tilled. It is his opinion that on one section of the farm an Indian battle must have been fought in the pioneer days, and that the battle axes and other weapons he has discovered are all that is left of the battle.

A spring on the Nickleson farm was an attraction to Indians in former days. Quoting his father he said Indian encampments on the farm were not uncommon. The Indians were peaceable and no quarrels existed between them and the whites.

With the old man's luck Mr. Nickleson remembers hunting with turkey and other game in the prime five forests that covered the Nickleson farm. He fathered us to tell him of killing deer on the farm. Although several veterans of this primeval forest still stand near the Nickleson home a majority of the forest have been cleared away for farm land.

In 1822 James Nickleson, grandfather of Mr. Nickleson, migrated to this section from Pennsylvania. When Mr. Nickleson's father was 10 years of age they landed the will and that is now the family homestead. The spot was chosen within a week after the family moved to Ohio and was cleared away for a farm that is retained in the family to this day.

A big cabin was erected within a few feet of the site of the first cabin. Mr. Nickleson's father built it in 1875 or about the time of Mr. Nickleson's birth.

Nickleson clearly remembers the building of the old Hoeking, a rail, railroad track through Marion county more than 50 years ago. The tracks pass through his farm where Mr. Nickleson has been for 70 years.

See the WHITTALL RUG on the Sidewalk

One Day of wear on the Sidewalk Exceeds Ten Years of wear in the Home

WANTED--AT ONCE!!

100,000 PEOPLE

We need 100,000 pair of feet to tramp on this rug. It must stand the most severe test known for a floor covering—seven days of exposure, regardless of the weather, dirt and dust, pounding and scuffing. We positively guarantee that this Sidewalk Rug is a regular stock Whittall Rug and was not specially made for this demonstration. You can always buy one like it—right here in the store—any time.

Demonstration Starts Sat. July 19—Continuing Until Sat. July 26

WHAT BECOMES OF THE RUG?

This rug will be left out on the sidewalk seven days including two Saturdays. Then one half of it will be washed with ordinary soap and water, and the other half left absolutely untouched. The two halves will then be placed in our window so that everyone may examine them closely side by side. Study them carefully. It will be hard to believe. We will positively guarantee that the rug you see in the window was the Sidewalk Rug.

This Rug is a—WHITTALL ANGLO LUSTRE—size 9x12

THE ANGLO LUSTRE—the newest of Whittall Rugs—holds the full brilliance and indescribable richness of antique Oriental floor coverings. Its lustre and softness are not the result of ordinary fabric treated to impart sheen. From the selection of wools to the method of finishing an entirely new rug has been created. Whittall revolutionized the science of dyeing, insuring fast color in every strand of yarn. Repeated tests leave the Anglo Lustre fast to anything which will not destroy the fabric itself. Each footstep sinks into its luxurious pile to tell you that this material is distinctly different and superior.

Thousands of Feet cross the WHITTALL RUG every day in the Sidewalk Test

The ANGLO PERSIAN rivals the finest antique orientals in both beauty and durability and they are vastly superior to the present day products of the Far East. They are so closely woven that they portray truthfully the intricate and elaborate designs of even the finest antique hand weaving. Their woods are specially selected and blended and are spun in such a way that the yarns emphasize the natural lustre of the fleece and impart a silken sheen which makes even unpretentious patterns minutely distinctive and radiant with quality.

THE PALMERS are priced as low as quality can let them go. They show how wide is the difference bridged by the very few dollars which are between Whittall Rugs and those called "just as good." They are a deep, thick pile Wilton fabric woven from woolen yarns and are the most inexpensive of the Whittall high pile rug. In fact, a lower priced rug cannot be made in this weave without a substantial sacrifice of both beauty and durability. They feel under foot not unlike orientals of the Turkish type of weaving and closely resemble them in both colors and designs.

WHEAT YIELD HERE HIGHER

Good Quality Crop in Marion
County Reported by Farm Bureau.

The wheat yield in Marion county is exceeding the expectations of farmers during the spring months of the year. The harvesting arrived the hard winter months in much better shape than was expected.

A report by the Marion County Farm Bureau showed that the favorable weather conditions of the late spring and early summer months were responsible for the growth of the wheat and the frequent fall plowing its maturity has given the kernels which not only increase the yield but also increase the test at harvesting.

The number of bushels in both state and county will be somewhat smaller this year than last although exact statistics on this will not be available for some time. However, the wheat that has been harvested this year tests from 60 to 63 bushels, it is of a high quality and in many cases of a considerable better quality than the crop of last year. The exceptional good quality of the wheat is due in the most part to the good fertilizers used in Marion county.

The hay harvest is almost as just fair by Farm Bureau officials although it may reach the air of last year's crop.

Hopes for a 4 to 5 corn crop are held in Marion county with the good crop weather and rains which have marked the weather conditions during the last month. The excellent July hot spell when the thermometer hovered between 80 and 90 for more than a week at a time brought the corn crop enormously. An average rainfall for the rest of the season will result in a better than average corn crop for the year.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Wood of Marion, president of the association greeted the conference with a short talk. Reports from the east central and national conventions were given by Mrs. D. C. Pottorf of Springfield, Mrs. V. C. Powell of Green Camp and Mrs. O. T. Salgart of south of Marion.

Mrs. Lippert conducted a questionaire period following a brief talk on missionary work. A dinner at noon was enjoyed, followed by a short social period.

At 1:30 o'clock Mrs. E. Long of Marion opened a session with devotions. A group of 20 of the Richmond women presented a colorful pageant, "The Destiny of Womanhood." Groups from Ostrander and West Mansfield presented short musical programs.

Undetermined since Texas became a state, the western boundary of Travis county and the eastern boundary of Blanco county have been definitely established.

BUILDS RURAL BOOK SERVICE

State Librarian Working Out Program for Country Areas in Ohio

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., July 18.—Determination of what the rural communities of Ohio need in the way of libraries was the object of a survey now being conducted under the direction of George Elliott, state librarian, from the library of the state.

County superintendents, farm bureau county federations of women's clubs and other organizations are cooperating in the survey. Through the librarianship experts in the state library service, to make further improvements in the character of the rural library service. The number of traveling libraries in circulation has been increased to 1,000. Each is approximately double the former high record. In all 175,000 volumes are now circulating through traveling units.

Books are loaned to the state library during the summer season are packed and cleaned and then packed in boxes of 70 to 75 volumes. McCorkle explains the boxes form the units of standard libraries ranging from 75 to 1,000 volumes each. Complete lists showing the contents of the various units are sent to the post and from these lists the rural libraries may be ordered by serial number enabling the library to now organized to ship a complete library on 24 hours notice.

Traveling libraries are loaned on request of schools, churches, grange, parent teachers, associations, farm bureau, county federations of women's clubs, Y. W. C. A. or responsible citizens, for a community. Through cooperation with local librarians and upon individual requests the circulation of books direct from the state library is being largely increased. During the first five months of this year 13,800 volumes were loaned individually compared with 8,700 during the same period last year. In order to rural libraries by mail and city libraries through libraries circulation was increased 34 per cent last year.

Minnow Traps and Dip Nets Declared Illegal

Fish Cocktail Classed as Ideal Hot Day Lunch

Fish Cocktail as Meal or Entree
"ANOTHER clam cocktail place," ordered the business man at the luncheon table. "And that," said he, "is my idea of a good lunch on a hot day—plenty of chilled claims in a peppy sauce."

We're accustomed to regard these fish cocktails merely as an entree, but those who are fond of the diet can usually enjoy more than the small service in this form. An ample dish, instead of a small one will be tempting to the appetite, and from the standpoint of nourishment, will be an adequate lunch in hot weather when one feels hungry, but must feel loath to eat much like work.

A mother's gift to her children

Pig-tailed little girls and freckle faced little boys were the inspiration of this old time, home-made mayonnaise. Ivanhoe is still the choicest mayonnaise that fussy mothers and particular hostesses can serve.

IVANHOE
Mayonnaise

For it. This sauce is sufficient for a large service for fish to two persons. The important thing is to have all ingredients well chilled—the fish as well as the sauce. Serve with crisp crackers or hard wheat crackers. Either the fish may be moulded in little glasses, topped with sauce, and all surrounded by cracker bits, for each service, or the sauce may be left in the glass in the center of a shallow bowl, embedded in ice, and the fish piled on shells, or in another glass cup.

CREAM VALUABLE FOR SOUP FLAVOR

Sweet or Sour, It Provides Delectable Addition to Popular Food.

When cream is plentiful it can be used liberally to give a fine flavor to many kinds of soup. And a special advantage is that it doesn't matter whether the cream is sweet or sour. If sweet, it needs to be whipped stiff before being added. But sour cream can be used exactly like whipped cream—that is, added to the liquid or moulded on top like a garnish. Indeed, sour cream is preferable to sweet, especially if it is very thick, for it has a sharp, unique flavor most refreshing on a warm day.

Whipped cream can be added to the various thin soups served hot, such as chicken or clam bouillon. The soup is poured into cups and a tablespoon of cream piled on top just before serving it.

Sour soups, like tomato, dock or the fruit soups are delightful if served with a generous helping of thick sour cream. This may be mixed with the liquid just before serving in cups, or the soup may be served in the regular chicken soup plates and a tablespoon or so of thick sour cream piled in the center as a garnish.

If the sour cream is not quite sour enough—as often happens—a few drops of lemon juice will be an improvement and not disturb the flavor in the least.

Many of the grown like spinach, beet tops, turnip tops, kale, can be prepared as soup, the greens being finely chopped after cooking then chilled and thickened with sour cream. This is another way of gently covering a new interest in these beautiful foods.

175-MILE TRIP GOES TO LAKE

Beautiful Route for Sunday Tour by Motorists Leads to Lake St. Marys.

A 175-mile trip that takes the motorist off beaten paths is suggested by the Marion Auto club for Sunday. The trip has as its objective beautiful Lake St. Marys in the western part of the state near the Indiana line, a body of water said to be the third largest artificial lake in the world. It is owned by the state of Ohio and in addition to adjacent land, boating, fishing and swimming are offered those who care to spend part of the day there.

The trip can reach the lake by following route 30 to Kenton, route 67 through Houndfield to New Hampshire, and route 32 through Wapakoneta to the lake.

Returning by a different route state highway 66 may be followed to a point beyond New Bremen, where route 68 should be taken to Liberty, Port Jefferson, Bellefontaine, West Mansfield, Houndfield and Prospect. At Prospect route 1 should be taken into Marion.

Volunteer Work To Make Classes Here Possible

Red Cross Accepts Offer of Mrs. Ethel C. Bauman To Direct Swimming and Life Saving Students at Crystal Lake Park This Summer.

Through volunteer service of Mrs. Ethel C. Bauman of 757 East Center street and three other persons, Marion will be given free swimming and life saving instruction at Crystal Lake park this summer, according to announcement at Red Cross headquarters today.

Mrs. Bauman, holder of a senior life saver's certificate with the National Red Cross organization, and a qualified instructor, has been designated by the local chapter as instructor here. Mrs. Bauman will not receive any funds from the Red Cross for her work, she says.

Marion's chances of having a qualified instructor available for teaching and conducting of life saving examinations almost faded into oblivion when the chapter, an agency of the Marion Community Fund, took a 11 percent cut in budget with all other agencies this year. Among the activities of the chapter shut out by the cut was the swimming instruction and life saving program at Crystal Lake.

Worked in Florida Mrs. Bauman has done similar work in Florida, where she has been spending the winters. She is a Marion woman, and has been active in Red Cross life saving work here in the last few years.

In addition to regular instruction for children and persons who cannot swim, Mrs. Bauman will demonstrate and teach new holds used to rescue drowning persons.

Formation of a senior life saving corps here seemed probable following Mrs. Bauman's decision to take charge of life saving instruction at the lake. Working with Vaughn Fox, life guard and senior life saver, Dr. Hermann Hahn and Ted Browner, both senior life savers, Mrs. Bauman will probably attempt to organize the necessary 10 senior life savers into a local corps within the next few weeks. These corps are chartered through National Red Cross.

Chances in Morning Swimming instruction classes will make it possible for nearly 50 Marion children who signed up for instruction.

GUNNESS CASE SUSPECT GONE

Woman Reported as Murder Farm Operator Leaves Before Officers Arrive.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Miss. July 13—The sheriff's office here today said that a woman, believed to be Mrs. Belle Gunness, charged with operating a murder farm near Laporte, Ind., 20 years ago, had recently left her home on Wolf river and gone out of the state.

At the request of Indiana authorities, the sheriff of Harrison county attempted to arrest the woman earlier today but found her gone. The suspect had been known in this section by another name.

Sheriffs of Hinds and Harrison counties attempted to keep the news of the suspect quiet after it had leaked out through the Indiana authorities mistaking a telegraphic inquiry to learn if Belle Gunness was wanted to mean that she already had been arrested.

The sheriffs have refused to say what information led them to believe the suspect was the woman wanted on charges of killing 15 or 20 men to their deaths by marrying them and then giving them poison.

The Gunness case was a front page murder sensation two decades ago. A fire destroyed the Gunness
